

EDAC Group announces Heilind as the recipient of our 2024 Excellence in Design Award.

This award celebrates Heilind's standout performance in delivering design wins and driving custom connector solutions into real-world applications. Their ability to work closely with engineers, understand the technical needs, and guide the right parts into the right projects has brought tremendous value to our mutual customers. Heilind continues to set the standard for engineering-driven distribution, and we're proud to have them as a trusted partner.
